

Privacy Policy

CESEM respects the right to privacy and the protection of personal data shared by the user. Therefore:

- i. No personal data is requested from visitors to the research unit's website, and they can browse the entire site with the guarantee that no personal data is collected. On some pages of the website, you may find links to external sites. CESEM does not share personal data with these sites and is not responsible for their privacy policies.
- ii. CESEM does not collect personal data without the user's explicit and informed consent. CESEM only collects data that is necessary and relevant for the purposes indicated and authorized.
- iii. By making your personal data available to CESEM as part of any process (membership form, support request form, personal page, etc.), you acknowledge and consent to it being processed in accordance with the terms of this Privacy Statement and Personal Data Processing.
- iv. All personal data whose collection has been consented to will be processed with guarantees of security and confidentiality. The information requested will be stored on CESEM's servers.

You may withdraw your consent at any time by submitting your request to cesem@fcsh.unl.pt .